AerOceaNetwork's Executive Director

I have some good news for you. No, strike that. I have some great news for you!

AerOceaNetwork will be in Dubai in full force in 2020. And we want to see you there...

Why come to Dubai?

Dubai is more than a hub. It is a world city. And for the logistics industry it is one of the most important centers of business anywhere. Its importance extends beyond the Middle East to include Africa, the Indian Subcontinent and Central Asia.

This is why Dubai is of interest to us and why should be on the list of all serious projects players.

So consider this:

- Your AerOceaNetwork partners are all going to be there
- The new AerOceaNetwork members are all going to be there
- AerOceaNetwork will be continuing with our new meeting format we designed to get the maximum positive effect for your meetings.
- We have some excellent entertainment activities planned for you all.
- What better place for a logistics industry event than in Dubai, the undisputed commercial capital of the Middle East?

But then you knew all of that, didn't you? See you in Dubai, my friend!

Best regards, Gary Dale Cearley

Dubai, U.A.E.

With year-round sunshine, intriguing deserts, beautiful beaches, luxurious hotels and shopping malls, fascinating heritage attractions and a thriving business community, Dubai receives millions of leisure and business visitors each year from around the world. These visitors can benefit from a range of services and a local infrastructure that help make any trip to Dubai smooth and hassle-free.

Dubai has a warm, sunny climate that is ideal for tourism, with mild temperatures for most of the year and a low rainfall. Summer temperatures in July and August can reach highs of around 45°C (113°F) with high humidity, making this the least comfortable time of year to visit in terms of climate. However, Dubai is well geared up for high temperatures, and public transport, shopping malls, hotels, restaurants and visitor attractions are all air conditioned.

English is widely spoken in Dubai, and as all restaurant menus, road signs and other information is usually presented in both English and Arabic, visitors who speak English will have no trouble making their way around. Many tour operators and travel professionals will also be able to offer services to French, Russian and German speaking visitors.

The local currency is the dirham, which is pegged to the dollar at Dhs 3.67. Dubai offers a sophisticated network of banks, currency exchanges and ATMs, making it easy to access money across the city.

Dubai is tolerant and cosmopolitan and all visitors are welcome. However, Islam is a way of life in the city, and therefore tourists should adopt a certain level of cultural and religious sensitivity for the duration of their stay. While dress codes are fairly liberal, swim wear should only be worn on beaches or at swimming pools, and when visiting shopping malls and other attractions, tourists should wear clothing that is not too tight or revealing. Certain attractions, such as mosques or religious sites, usually have stricter dress codes, requiring both men and women to cover up bare shoulders, arms and legs, and women to wear headscarves.

Despite being governed by Islamic laws, alcohol is available to tourists in licensed bars and restaurants (these are almost always located inside four and five star hotels), and in airport duty free shops.
